Among them, the oil quality sensor and fine filtration solution developed by Mel-Systems will be presented. The oil sensor's information and diagnostics are gathered by a software black-box developed by Metatronix. Data collected and preliminary results will be discussed with the attendees. The IT architecture deployed for the test and compliant with IT Standards EN13149 will be presented as well. The showcase on predictive maintenance is completed by the maintenance budget software developed by PLUSERVICE for bus fleet management. The software, under test by the local operator, combines two innovative applications: a maintenance software able to elaborate on the remaining life of specific engine components and a software to assess and plan the fleet's maintenance costs.
